

Interests as Career Clues

- If you like building things that's a clue
- If you like animals that's a clue
- If you like creating things that's a clue
- If you like being outdoors amongst nature that's a clue
- If you like helping people out that's a clue
- If you like learning languages that's a clue
- If you like debating ideas that's a clue
- If you like playing sport that's a clue
- If you like cars and motorbikes that's a clue

Use your clues and start thinking about the kinds of people who might have those same clues.

What kinds of people build things? What kind of people work with animals? What kind of people create things? What kind of people work outdoors?

Then start researching and talking to those people...

- What do they do in their role?
- What other jobs are there in building things?
- How did they get into their role?
- What skills and training do they need?
- What could I do now to get experience in this?

How do you know what interests you?
